CALIFORNIA STATE ASSEMBLY
JOB LISTINGS

Office: Speaker Robert Rivas (Communications Office)
Classification: Student Intern (Communication Interns-Winter and Spring 2027)
Salary: $20/hour (not eligible for benefits)
Posted: October 29, 2026

The Office of Assembly Speaker Robert Rivas is seeking Communication Interns for Winter and Spring 2027.

The two separate internship dates are as follows: January through April 2027, and March through June 2027.

Interns will support the Speaker's Communications Office across a variety of duties, including media relations, digital and social media strategy, and communications support for Assembly member offices.

Over the four-month internship, interns will gain firsthand experience in legislative communications, from compiling daily news clips and tracking media coverage to developing social media content and writing newsletters, press releases and other materials.

This is an in-person internship based in Sacramento. Interns are expected to be available 24–30 hours per week. There are two different start dates for these two internship opportunities: January 2027, and also March 2027.

Responsibilities

- Assist with drafting press releases, statements, remarks, newsletters, and digital and social media content
- Monitor news coverage and compile daily media clips
- Research legislative and policy issues to support communications and messaging
- Support media relations efforts, including maintaining media lists
- Help gather and design content for social media

Qualifications

- Academic experience in government, media or communications
- Demonstrated strong interest in California public policy, communications, social media or a related field
- A foundation of writing, editing and research skills
- Attention to detail and the ability to meet deadlines
- Familiarity with social media, digital communications and graphic design platforms
- Prior internship experiences preferred
